EG Workforce Solutions, an EmploymentGroup Company, Celebrates 60 Years of Helping People Succeed

Battle Creek, MI – February 1, 2018 – EG Workforce Solutions, headquartered in Battle Creek, MI, is celebrating its 60th anniversary of “helping people succeed.” This month, the company is kicking off a year-long celebration to honor those impacted by their staffing services over the decades.

The company was founded in 1958 under the name Modern Services by Jack Gray. At the time, Temporary Staffing was still in its earliest stages. The organization soon grew to become a regional leader in the staffing industry under the EmploymentGroup brand.

In 2015, the company changed its name to EG Workforce Solutions to better describe the full-cycle talent management solutions it provides its partners. EG’s service offerings include: Temporary Staffing, Managed Services, Recruitment Process Outsourcing, Direct Placement, and Engagement and Retention Programs.

EG Workforce Solutions attributes its commitment to innovation as a key factor in its growth. The company operates under the “Rockefeller Habits,” which allow it to be nimble and responsive to the needs of its customers.

“I’m proud of EG’s 60 year record of helping people succeed,” said Mark Lancaster, President and CEO of EG Workforce Solutions. “We are fortunate to have customers that we can partner with to create a positive impact on the economy and wellbeing of our communities,” he adds.
